

In general, it was kind of a surprise for me, more than anything, because I kind of got into this because of social media, you know, the whole Twitter, Snapchat thing. I kind of got into this a little later than some people because I only joined once they started following me on social media, so I've had to play catch up for a while. I got here right when we started getting the tests and the riddles and so that was a big thing that happened for a while... We're still trying to figure out everything as we go along -- I don't want to say that we know anything yet...It's interesting to go through that, it's interesting to contact people. This is a pretty cool thing right now...I guess the biggest thing started happening once we actually started getting the ciphers, just the Twitter ciphers or whatever which took us a while to figure out but eventually we got some of them, or at least one of them

What we know so far and everything that we've been getting from documents like the Bara interviews, which kinda says that something big is going to happen this year and is why we're being recruited to join P.S. or to actually do this. We don't know much because unfortunately a lot of the documents are blacked out, so that's kind of what we're working on right now. P.S. in general, we're kind of piecing everything together, especially who goes where, especially with the sects, like the serpents, owls, squirrels, we're trying to figure that out. We're figuring out who Jesse is, because we just found out something about him. We don't know who he is. But it's all kind of one big mystery -- whenever we figure out something, something else comes into play that we have to figure out again. So that's always fun. In general, it's been an interesting time to say the least.